Firstbaze seeks to partner with motivated and innovative persons who would like to broaden their experience in infomedia, research and data management and training.

Our business focuses on developing communities in the African sub-regions. There may be scope in the near future for opportunities for freelance artists, media professionals and data scientists keen on transformational interventions in areas local to them in keeping with Firstbaze objectives.

For those who may be interested you would already be working in a similar environment and may wish to join us as:

- online contributors with regular news content related to your region,
- Socio-political analyst and commentator
- Tutor/Trainer as partner in our TRaC programme
- Media/Arts director
- Events coordinator

We shall communicate via this site and our social media links further information on opportunities with Firstbaze
